Call for Papers

Welcome to the official website of the 5th Global Conference on Education and Research (GLOCER 2024), which will be held on December 16-19, 2024 in Sarasota, FL. Proudly organized and sponsored by the M3 Center at the University of South Florida, USA, this prestigious event continues its tradition of excellence for the fifth time. For more information, please see our previous conferences here.

GLOCER Conference is dedicated to bringing together a vibrant community of researchers, scientists, scholars, and students to exchange groundbreaking ideas, share their latest research findings, and discuss the future of Global Education and Research. Engage in stimulating discussions on practical challenges and innovative solutions in a collaborative and inspiring environment.

The official language of the conference is English, ensuring a global exchange of ideas. We warmly invite and encourage prospective authors to submit their original research (not previously submitted, published, or under consideration elsewhere). Distinguished experts in the field will rigorously review all submissions through a double-blind process.

Join us at GLOCER 2024 and be part of a global movement driving the future of education and research.

We look forward to your participation and contributions!

1. The Abstract Only category should be at least 1,000 words (excluding the reference list).
2. Full paper should be at least 3,000 words (excluding reference list and appendices if applicable) but NOT exceed 7,000 words (including tables, figures, reference list, and appendices if applicable)
3. Roundtable discussions should be at least 1,000 words (excluding reference list).
4. Symposium presentations should be at least 1,000 words (excluding reference list).
5. Poster presentations should be at least 1,000 words (excluding reference list).

Publication Options:

There will be four publication options at the GLOCER Conference:

1. Journal of Global Education and Research Article: Authors who submitted full papers to the GLOCER conference are invited to submit their full papers to the Journal of Global Education and Research (JGER), which is an open-access journal published by the University of South Florida (USF) M3 Publishing. These papers will undergo a fast-track review process by the JGER reviewers and editors, but publication is not guaranteed.
2. Advances on Global Education and Research Book Chapter: Authors who submitted full papers to the GLOCER conference have the option to publish their full papers in the ISBN open-access book published by the University of South Florida (USF) M3 Publishing.
3. Conference Proceedings Publication: All authors who submit a manuscript under any submission category to the GLOCER conference have the option to publish their abstracts in the GLOCER Conference Proceedings.
4. No publication: Authors may opt-in for no publication at all.

* Please visit <https://glocer.org/call-for-papers/> for more information.

Conference Session Formats:

Sessions will vary in order to provide a robust conference experience for presenters and participants. Presenters are asked to identify their preferred format during submission; however, proposal reviewers may suggest alternative formats suitable to your manuscript.

1. Concurrent Presentations: Concurrent Presentations are sessions that present research, theory, concepts, and practices. This track welcomes papers that are fully completed research papers for stand-up presentations. Concurrent sessions are 20 minutes long, including a Q&A session. Submissions are required to be either conceptually- or empirically-based. Conceptually-based papers seek to develop a fuller understanding of education by building on existing knowledge. Empirically-based papers are original research that tests or develops a theory or makes a new contribution to the field's knowledge base.
2. Roundtable Discussions: Roundtable Discussions create opportunities for small groups to engage in discussion about a particular educational topic. Generally, these sessions consist of 6-12 people and are held at large, round conference tables. The proposal must include a list of 2-3 clearly stated discussion questions to encourage participation among the audience. Please note that several roundtable discussions happen simultaneously in the same large room, so formal presentations using slides and/or other support media are NOT possible.
3. Symposium Presentations: Symposium Presentations are formal presentations on an educational topic. Typically conducted in presentation format, these are used to report interesting initial findings from a research project. Since these sessions are not blind-reviewed, they are not designed for complete research projects.
4. Poster Presentations: Poster Presentations provide an opportunity to present and discuss one main research theme, program, practice, or relevant topic in an informal setting, like an exhibit hall or information fair. The poster session submission includes (1) the significance of the study, (2) the literature preview, (3) the proposed methodology, and (4) the implication/application for education. A good poster session centers on one main theme, presents valuable information, and stimulates discussion. The recommended poster size is 36" tall x 48" wide. (90cm tall, 120cm wide). Best Paper Selection Rules

1. Best papers will be selected only from full papers (Should be a minimum of 3,000 words excluding reference list and appendices if applicable but NOT exceed 7,000 words including tables, figures, reference list, and appendices if applicable)
2. Authors must submit their camera-ready full papers one month before the conference dates.
3. The papers that were nominated by the reviewers will be sent to the best paper selection committee.
4. The author or at least one co-author must attend and present the selected paper.
5. All winning authors will get a complimentary registration for the next conference.
6. The selected papers may be considered to be published in the Journal of Global Education and Research \(JGER\)
